

European Proposal Setting-Up

Euroquality greatly facilitates the grant application process and maximises its clients' chances of success, thanks to its highly qualified consultants with a strong technical knowledge of specific areas of expertise. Each new proposal is built upon the experience and feedback of hundreds of previous projects and their Evaluation Summary Reports received over the years, and adapted to the specific call context and needs, leading to always better proposals. Check the different steps we can implement to support you in the application process:

Ideation

Co-creation of main concepts and ideas fitting a specific call, and technological watch.

Our support is tailored to your needs!

If you are used to European projects, you will appreciate the high-level support we can bring through proofreading and advice, based on the domain-specific expertise of our consultants, coupled with their unique knowledge in project engineering. You may also benefit from the time allocated by our team, usually composed by at least 2 consultants, that will actively support you in managing the consortium and ensure an efficient co-construction process in which each partner can fully deliver their potential. We are also keen on integrating newcomers into the European funding world, by supporting them step-by-step all along the process for co-defining their potential contribution to a proposal and help them providing required information from a technical, administrative, and financial point of view. Each proposal is unique; we adapt our methodologies and offers to your needs and contexts. Reach us for more information!
